

Manchester Community Health Center Retains JCC for New Medical Office Building

Jobin Construction Consultants has been retained by the Manchester Community Health Center to serve as project consultant for their new medical office building. We are responsible for evaluation of the proposed building, aide in the permitting process, writing of the project scope and specifications, and coordination of information between the owner and design team. The project includes intense renovation of a 200 year old mill space that was used as a locomotive factory, into a medical office space serving thousands of patients each year.

Jobin Construction Consultants will also provide on site construction coordination and management. We report to the medical center staff and board of directors. The project will be completed on a fast track schedule with completion within 120 days of commencement.

Manchester Community Health Center is a federally qualified health center, providing high quality preventative and primary health care services.
